Careers in Elder Law

The Office of Career Services and the Alumni Association's Alumni in Transition Committee cordially invite you to this informative panel.

Elder Law is experiencing many changes as it responds to the aging "Baby Boomer" generation's needs. The field includes many roles for attorneys in both the public and private sectors and spans issues including social security benefits, Medicare and Medicaid planning, trusts and estates planning, long-term care, guardianship, and more.

The paths to careers in the field are varied and panelists will provide examples of how they entered this area of practice, as well as offer insights for current practitioners in solo or firm practice, government, non-profit and in-house counsel.
