In a city where power and prestige collide, there's a new kind of elite emerging—women who not only lead but redefine the legal profession with grit, grace, and unshakable authority. Meet the three women turning heads in matrimonial law: RoseAnn Branda in Brooklyn, Dina De Giorgio on Long Island, and Jill Spielberg in Westchester. Together, they form the core of Abrams Fensterman's powerhouse Family and Matrimonial Law Practice—what many are now calling the most formidable team in New York State.

"It's not just about knowing the law—it's about knowing people. Divorce is a human experience, not just a legal process," says RoseAnn Branda, Executive Partner and Director of the practice. A fixture in the Brooklyn legal scene and a trusted advisor to New York City's judicial elite, Branda has guided thousands through some of the most high stakes separations with unmatched skill and poise. She's as comfortable negotiating eight-figure settlements as she is sitting across from a grieving parent. "Clients come to us for clarity in chaos— and we deliver."

RoseAnn Branda's team is uniquely equipped to serve next generation professionals in tech, startups, and crypto, offering sophisticated counsel for divorces involving non-traditional assets like digital currencies and equity compensation. Under RoseAnn Branda's leadership, Abrams Fensterman's Family Law Department has grown into one of the most respected matrimonial practices in the state—earning a prestigious Tier 1 Best Law Firm ranking in Family Law for New York City by Best Lawyers® in 2025.

On Long Island, Partner Dina De Giorgio is the Director of the firm's Lake Success family law practice. She brings three decades of courtroom and mediation finesse to the team. A former Town Councilwoman and seasoned legal strategist, Dina knows how to lead and resolve—often simultaneously. "We're not in the business of prolonging pain."

Dina's clients come to her because they want a strategy that protects their assets, their peace of mind, and their dignity," she says. Known for her cool-headed pragmatism and razor sharp instincts, De Giorgio has become the attorney of choice for Nassau and Suffolk's high-net worth communities. "This isn't cookie-cutter lawyering—it's surgical," she adds.

Dina is the go-to counsel for complex divorces in Nassau and Suffolk. She is widely respected for her practical, results-driven approach to high-asset separations, often avoiding unnecessary litigation through strategic mediation.

And in Westchester? That's Jill Spielberg's domain. As the Director of the firm's White Plains matrimonial team, Spielberg is known for her command in high-conflict custody litigation and complex asset division cases involving executives, entrepreneurs, and public figures. Her courtroom presence is fierce—but it's her ability to navigate emotionally volatile matters with compassion and clarity that truly sets her apart. "You can't fake empathy. My clients trust that I can litigate with precision and still help them find peace," Spielberg says. Her approach to custody issues especially those involving neurodivergent children has made her a sought after resource amongst families, mental health professionals, and the Judiciary.

Jill Spielberg is a recognized leader in custody matters involving neurodivergent children, drawing on her extensive knowledge and network of mental health and educational professionals to craft long-term parenting plans that anticipate future challenges and prioritize each child's developmental needs. Her integrated, child-centered approach empowers co parents to make informed decisions with clarity, compassion, and strategic foresight.

Individually, each of these attorneys is a star. But together, they're a supernova. With the backing of a full-service firm and over 115 attorneys across five offices statewide, Abrams Fensterman offers what no boutique can: deep legal infrastructure cross-practice support, and a statewide bench of respected litigators—without sacrificing the boutique feel or personalized strategy.
