LEADERS IN MUNICIPAL, ENVIRONMENTAL & LAND USE LAW

Abrams Fensterman is one of New York's leading municipal, environmental, and land use law firms. Founded in 2000, the firm has grown to 120 attorneys across five offices—Lake Success, Brooklyn, White Plains, Rochester, and Albany—offering unmatched experience in representing local governments throughout the Hudson Valley and across the state.

We counsel municipalities on the full spectrum of issues they face, including municipal and environmental law, public sector labor and employment, land use and zoning, government contracts, commercial litigation, civil rights and First Amendment matters, regulatory compliance, telecommunications issues, ethics, and investigations.

Our team includes former judges, long-serving Town and Village Attorneys, Planning and Zoning Board counsel, and seasoned litigators who have handled thousands of municipal matters at both the trial and appellate levels.

We advise municipal clients on burgeoning issues, such as short-term rental legislation, solar farms and small cell tower installation. We have negotiated the successful implementation of developer community benefit agreements.

As a multidisciplinary law firm, we provide our municipal clients with immediate access to experienced attorneys across numerous practice areas. When specialized issues arise—such as intellectual property claims, complex litigation, environmental matters, or appellate work—we draw on the firm's depth to ensure comprehensive, timely support.

We welcome the opportunity to discuss how Abrams Fensterman can support your municipality's legal needs.
